

TRIANGLE FILM COMMUNITY / SCREENWRITERS GROUP
PARTICIPATION RULES AND CONDITIONS

By participating in Triangle Film Community (TFC) Screenwriters Group, you agree to the following rules and conditions. If you do not agree to these, you may not participate.

1) You understand the TFC Screenwriters Group is a closed group and issues and private works discussed and critiqued herein may only be discussed herein and/or among fellow group participants and you will not discuss or distribute submitted materials with non-group participants or outside the context of the TFC Screenwriters Group.

2) The works shared in the TFC Screenwriters Group are the private intellectual property of their original authors and any contributions, comments, and/or advice given in response by you as a participant within the group are given freely, no strings attached, and do not in any way shape or form constitute or entitle you to monetary and/or future compensation, benefits, credit or claims on materials posted by participants in the TFC Screenwriters Group for critique.

3) You understand participation in the TFC Screenwriters Group is a privilege, not a guarantee or entitlement, and that disruption of the group and/or frighteningly large demands on the moderators' time and/or malicious or unhelpful critiques are grounds for termination of your participation in the group and, if you participate in either activity, you will be excluded from participation.

4) While everyone in the group may not be a professional writer, we are all professionals and adults. You understand that constructive feedback can't work without mutual respect. We're smart, passionate people so we will no doubt disagree from time to time. But we do so with respect for the other person. If a moderator tells you to back off, you agree to do so without further argument. If you have a problem with another group member, you agree to deal with it privately.

5) You understand that no promises of critique, option, purchase, or promotion of works shared in the TFC Screenwriters Group forum have been made to participants by any other group participant and while moderators will attempt to monitor behaviors of participants, you participate in this workshop at your own risk and the moderators cannot be held responsible for the actions or behaviors of other participants nor do group moderators claim liability or responsibility for the actions of workshop participants.

6) In order to participate in the TFC Screenwriters Group, you must sign and date this document to confirm you have read and understand these rules. By signing this document, you agree to comply with these rules and conditions. These rules are taken very seriously; failure to comply will result in termination from the group.
